

ArabianBusiness

100 MOST INFLUENTIAL ARABS 2024

FINANCE

TALAL AL AJMI

Founder and CEO
Development Holding Company (DH Company)

remarkable heights. With DH Holding, his unwavering commitment to innovation and growth is rooted in a profound belief in the power of strategic investments. He aspires to create a world where individuals can embrace diversification and financial planning, unlocking their true potential and experiencing the exhilaration of reaching new pinnacles of success.

About Development Holding (DH) Company

Al Ajmi is a dynamic Kuwaiti entrepreneur renowned for his expertise in financial markets and trading, solidifying his status as a prominent figure in Kuwait and the wider Middle East. While holding a bachelor's degree in Information Technology from the University of Philadelphia, his true passion and vision lie in entrepreneurship and business leadership. Recognised within the business community as a strategic visionary, his entrepreneurial ethos is characterised by a relentless pursuit of success and a commitment to empowering others to achieve significant milestones.

At the helm of DH Holding, Al Ajmi leads with a transformative vision, merging astute analysis with strategic planning to shape future trajectories effectively. Embracing change and challenging norms, he advocates for adaptability and greatness. With an unwavering dedication to innovation, Al Ajmi drives expansion and unearths new opportunities, fueling an environment primed for boundless success. His commitment to growth and innovation stems from a belief in the transformative impact of strategic investments, aiming to create a landscape where diversification and financial planning enable individuals to excel and reach success.

In the business world, Al Ajmi emerges as a visionary force driven by a greater purpose and a relentless pursuit of excellence. His entrepreneurial spirit is fuelled by a deep-rooted desire to redefine success and empower others to achieve

DH places a strong emphasis on transparency, providing clients with in-depth insights into their investments through comprehensive metrics. The firm is deeply committed to research and development, with a specific focus on AI and data analytics to inform strategic decision-making. The integration of advanced technology and client feedback is pivotal to DH's strategic planning approach. As the visionary leader guiding the company, Al Ajmi advocates for a culture of continuous learning among team members, offering opportunities for professional growth and development. DH's business philosophy is rooted in principles of social responsibility and sustainability, which form the core of the company's values.

DH remains steadfast in prioritising growth, transparency, and client satisfaction, committed to fostering innovation and delivering outstanding outcomes. Positioned as a transformative entity in a world ripe with possibilities, DH's ethos revolves around integrity, growth, and innovation, propelling the company towards significant success. By championing innovation, challenging boundaries, embracing adaptability, fostering a culture of continuous learning, and upholding social responsibility, DH navigates the evolving business landscape with resilience. Looking towards the future, the company is gearing up for substantial investments, providing clients with profit-sharing opportunities.